VILLAGE NEWSLETTERNow you see it ... now you don't!

Anyone who regularly posts a letter on High Street will have realised that our treasured red pillar-box suddenly “disappeared” from the pavement outside Ruddington Post Office in February. This was to accommodate the preferred location for a very welcome new cashpoint (pictured) to replace the facility lost after the closure of Barclay's Bank. Unfortunately the plan to simply move the pillar-box to the other side of the door proved to be flawed – after electrical cables were discovered under the pavement!

Since then a frantic search has been on to find a suitable new site. By the time you read this, an even more traditional pillar-box (not our original) should have been installed by the bench near the Co-op on Church Street. Of course you can still post mail inside the post office during trading hours.

Another new structure on Church Street has “appeared” next to the bus shelter outside the church (pictured). This large black box, which looks rather like a free-standing cashpoint, is in fact a new way of paying our bus fares! It’s where you can purchase and top-up the new Robin Hood Smartcard for discounted pre-paid travel on Nottingham City Transport, Trent Barton, Kinchbus, Linkbuses and the NET trams (including bus, tram, park and rides).

The card itself is free of charge but requires a minimum £10 top-up. It can be used for all journeys within the designated “Greater Nottingham” boundary, which includes Ruddington. Unfortunately this machine does not take cash, so you will need a credit or debit card to boost your balance. But bus drivers will still be happy to accept your “real” money!

And now you see it again!

The new post box just along from the Co-op.

Annual Parish Meeting Find out about Fracking

19th April, 7.30 p.m.
at St. Peter’s Rooms

Come and find out about fracking.

It is possible, although there are no proposals at the moment, that an application might come in for fracking near Ruddington.

Find out about what fracking is and what this might mean.

No decisions will be made at the meeting, it is to find out what might happen and the possible impacts.

Notts Recycling Centres Service Changes April 2016

From 1 April 2016 Nottinghamshire County Council will be introducing a number of changes to the Recycling Centre service, including implementing a registration scheme for residents wishing to use the network of 12 sites in the County.

These changes were approved by the County Council at the budget meetings in February 2014 and 2015 in response to on-going funding challenges.

The registration scheme will require anyone accessing the sites to have completed an on-line (or via telephone support from the Customer Service Centre) application through the Councils "Self Portal".

You will need to confirm the details of your Nottinghamshire address, and assign access rights to a maximum of two vehicles registered to that address.

To enforce the scheme the Council, and its waste contractor Veolia, will initially be undertaking electronic checks on vehicles entering the Recycling Centres, and advising and supporting residents with the on-line registration process.

They will also be informing non-residents to utilise sites within the administrative area in which they live.

From September 2016 the Nottinghamshire County Council will be enforcing the scheme more rigorously.

Any vehicles not registered on the system will be refused access to deposit waste.

Surveys of the Recycling Centre sites indicate that cross border usage may be as much as 15% for some facilities, which means the County Council currently subsidises disposal costs for neighbouring Waste Disposal Authorities.

The County Council is also introducing an on-line pre booking process, and a range of disposal charges for residents wishing to deposit certain non-household inert wastes, including gypsum containing products, at the Recycling Centres when delivered in a van, pick-up or trailer. These charges will not extend to cars.

The County Council will work closely with the Borough and District Councils to monitor the effects of these changes and identify and address any adverse impacts on either kerbside or instances of fly-tipping.

Can't sing? Join the Tuneless Choir!

Ruddington Community Choir director Bernadette Bracha has joined forces with her friend Nadine Cooper to launch a Tuneless Choir, for people who can't sing, are out of practice or lacking in confidence.

The choir was the brainchild of Nadine, co-founder of women's online community Henpicked. She was told by her music teacher at the age of 11 that she should stop singing, because she was spoiling it for everyone else.

But can't sing doesn't mean won't sing, and Nadine was determined to enjoy the proven physical, emotional and social effects of singing.

Since its launch earlier this year, the choir has enjoyed phenomenal success and has featured in both national and international press, with Nadine and Bernadette also joining broadcasters Nicky Campbell on Radio Five Live and John Humphries on BBC Radio Four.

And its numbers are ever growing, with more and more people joining to get stuck into some Abba, Queen and similar music.

The choir meets in Lady Bay, usually on the first and third Thursdays of the month, from 8-9.30pm.

To find out more, email tunelesschoir@gmail.com, visit www.tunelesschoir.com or follow them on Facebook.

Ruddington Big Sing

Ruddington Community Choir is hosting a choir festival in the village on Saturday, 21st May.

Interest has been high, and Ruddington Big Sing is booking up fast! Over two thirds of the available delegate spaces are now confirmed and participating choirs include Beeston Voices, West Bridgford Social Singers and Singing for Pleasure.

Participants on the day will take part in workshops ranging from Barbershop to Songs from the Shows. There will be a community Big Sing and a gala concert in the evening featuring a special performance by the massed choirs!

It's hoped that the festival will not only be a fun and exciting day for the participants, along with encouraging Ruddington residents to join in with the singing, but also a boost to local traders as a map will be produced showing the singers where they can buy delicious food and drink from the amazing range of establishments we have within the village.

To get involved, email RuddingtonBigSing@gmail.com

Butchers' Birthday

Congratulations to Ruddington Butchers – which has just celebrated five years of trading!

Stewart White and Shane Ginty opened their new business in the historic Oliver's shop in Church Street on the 24th of March 2011 - after it had lain empty for seven months. Since then they've completely refurbished the premises, introduced many new ranges and proved there's still a demand for a dedicated high quality butchers' in our village.

When Stewart moved away to St Helen's just over a year ago Shane (pictured) took over the business and continues to run it with a little help from his wife Nicola. Shane celebrated the shop's fifth birthday with free wine and nibbles to thank all his customers for their continued support.

Beer Fest at the Frame Breakers

The Frame Breakers will be holding it's first-ever beer festival from Friday 8 April to Sunday 10 April. Since reopening under the ownership of Nottingham Brewery in October 2015, the pub is fast establishing a great reputation for the quality and range of its keg beers and hand-pulled ales, so holding a beer festival felt like a natural step.

Andy Heath, Operations Manager at Nottingham Brewery, explains: 'As our customers will know, quality real ales are a big part of life at The Frame Breakers. Holding a beer festival gives us the chance to offer an even wider selection than normal, including some more unusual choices that you don't often find. Craft ciders will also be much in evidence, building on the success of our 5-tap cider wall which features craft ciders and perries from local providers and from further afield.'

The beers and ciders available to drink at the festival will also be used to create a special food menu, reflecting The Frame Breakers' tradition of using Nottingham Brewery ales as ingredients. Current menu items include a hugely-popular stout and chocolate cake, and sausages made with a range of brews including cider, stout and EPA. These are specially made for the pub here in Ruddington by Julia's Kitchen and Ruddington Village

Butchers respectively, both on Church Street.

As well as food and drink, the beer festival will also feature an entertainment programme on the Saturday and Sunday. Says Andy: 'We've not confirmed the details yet, but we're hoping to have a Meet the Brewer event on Saturday 9 April, where the boys from Nottingham Brewery will be on hand to chat about their products and the different brewing processes. On Sunday, we're hoping to have live music followed by a pub quiz and other games.'

Customers will also have the chance to get to know new Manageress, Amy, who joined The Frame Breakers team in March after previous Manager, Benjamin Zuchold, moved on to pastures new. Says Amy: 'I'm very excited to be taking the reins at The Frame Breakers and have lots of exciting ideas to put the pub right at the heart of the village community in Ruddington. After our own beer festival in April, we'll be looking forward to taking part in Ruddfest alongside other pubs in the village, from Thursday 2 to Sunday 5 June.'

For more information about the beer festival at The Frame Breakers, please call into the pub or ring 0115 859 0060. You can find the latest information on Ruddfest at the events Facebook page, or look out for an article in the Village Newsletter next month.

Passing of Millie Etanu, Joint Owner and Headmistress of the Vineyard School.

Many of you will know that last year James Peacock School established a link with the Vineyard Primary School in Soroti, Teso, Northern Uganda, when they sent out Ruddy Bear with photographs, a diary and much information about life in Ruddington.

The Vineyard School reciprocated with a diary, written by the pupils, to further establish the link.

The pupils, staff and parents/carers of James Peacock also collected books, games and school equipment, which was sent out to the Vineyard in a container, which has just arrived in Soroti.

The Vineyard School was established by Millie and Edward Etanu, who have been our dear friends for many years, so it is with much sadness that we have to tell you that Millie passed away on 4th March, after a spell in hospital with a respiratory infection.

Edward, her husband and three young sons, David, Benjamin and Jesse and all her friends and colleagues are devastated by her loss.

We sincerely hope that the link between the two schools will continue to flourish and serve as a meaningful legacy to Millie's memory.

That Blooming Bowls Club!

Last year the Ruddington Bowls club membership grew by 7% - and is looking to do even better this year. They are inviting people interested in taking up bowls to their free Open Day on Sunday 8 May 2016 from 2.30pm to 5pm at their Elms Park base in Ruddington. Folks will be able to drop in, try their hand at bowls, hear about the club, plus enjoy refreshments.

Once again there is a New Member offer. For only £5 people can enjoy 4 coaching sessions with friendly qualified coaches and up to 6 informal games with members. All equipment is provided free for the trial and if the person likes the club, the £5 comes off their membership! All the club asks is people wear flat smooth soled shoes with no heels (flip flops or old slippers might suit the purpose) in order to protect the greens.

Brian Tolley Club Secretary said: "We have a lovely club, in a fabulous setting with a caring membership. People are made to feel welcome and can get coaching and help to learn the game. The game is great and easy to learn – but, the real dividend comes through the friendships and companionship developed within the membership. We have all kinds of folks getting along and would love to welcome more”.

The bowls season runs May through to September and the game itself is affordable. For those who just want social games, there are weekly informal club roll ups, and around 20 friendly non competitive games to be enjoyed. League games are available just about every day of the week for the competitive. Evening league games start 6.30pm and we also have games in the afternoon and at weekends. The club has working members (not just the retired), games for male, female and mixed teams.

Brian added: “Bowls can have a stuffy image, but, generally we play in casual clothes for non competitive games. There is something for folks of all levels of ability and the physical demands are not that great. So, why not do what more than 13 people did last year - join us in the sun, join our club and make some new friends?”

To find out more contact Brian on: 0743 405 6176, e-mail: rudd.bowls@ntlworld.com or see our website: www.ruddingtonbowls.webspace.virginmedia.com

Success for local Army Cadet

Local Army Cadet, Brindley (Brin) Flatters recently represented Nottinghamshire Army Cadets in the National Cross Country Running Finals in Cumbria.

A member of the Ruddington Unit of Army Cadets, Brin keeps his fitness levels up by attending the Youth Gym at the Body Centre on the Green twice a week.

At the event he achieved a Gold and Bronze medal which was presented to him by Liam Gray at a unit meeting.

The Cadets meet at their base on Loughborough Road on Monday evenings and new members are welcome.

Chapel Gallery at Framework Knitters Museum

Saturday 30 April will see the launch of an exciting new initiative at the Framework Knitters Museum.

The museum has partnered with the Nottingham Society of Artists (NSA) to create a new exhibition space that will become an 'annexe' of the main NSA gallery at St Luke's House on Friar Lane in the city centre. Here in Ruddington, the artworks will be displayed in the former Methodist Chapel located opposite the main museum buildings on Chapel Street.

Paul Baker, Manager at the Framework Knitters Museum, comments: 'We're very excited to be working with the NSA on the Chapel Gallery project, which is set to become a major new tourist attraction for Ruddington.'

We're still finalising the details, but the idea is that works by different artists will be exhibited for around 6 to 8 weeks at a time. That means there'll be something new to see at the Chapel Gallery at least every couple of months, with lots of variety in terms of artistic style, media and subject matter. There'll also be opportunities to meet some of the exhibiting artists and even watch them at work in the Chapel.'

Once launched, the Chapel Gallery will be open on the same days and times as the Framework Knitters Museum. From Good Friday (25 March), these will be Wednesday to Saturday, 11am to 4:30pm and Sunday from 1:30pm to 4:30pm. Entrance to the Chapel Gallery will be free, although you'll need to pay the usual admission fee if you want to visit the museum as well. The museum shop and café will be open for visitors and the public to purchase refreshments and souvenirs as usual.

Adds Paul: 'All the artworks exhibited at the Chapel Gallery will be for sale, with 15% of all sales being put towards the museum's plans to redevelop our existing site and expand into the adjacent property, Gunn Cottage.'

The project really is a win-win for everyone concerned as it will help the museum raise much-needed funds, boost awareness for the NSA and its artists, and provide a fantastic new tourist attraction for the village.'

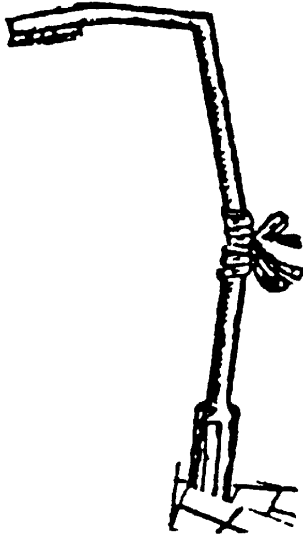

If you'd like to know more about the Chapel Gallery project, please contact the museum on 0115 984 6914. For information on the NSA, please visit www.nottinghamartists.org.uk, where you can also download their latest exhibitions programme.

New street lights

Over the last few weeks several areas of our village have had new LED (Light Emitting Diodes) installed. This is part of an ongoing programme across the County to replace the bulbs in existing street lights.

Nottinghamshire has approximately 95,000 street lights many of which are old and inefficient. The sole function of street lighting is to light the highway to ensure the Council meets its duty of care to road and footpath users.

LED street lighting gives a clearer crisper white light. These are the most efficient lights available and come with extended warranties and life-spans therefore saving on future maintenance also.

LED lights save between 45-60% on energy costs when compared to low pressure sodium (orange) lighting.

Lighting manufacturers no longer produce the old orange lanterns so if an "old" light fails it will be replaced with a suitable LED alternative. This way the stock of LED's will be built up more quickly.

LED's are much more efficient than alternative street lights currently in Nottinghamshire and therefore make savings in energy and carbon emissions. They are directional so focus more on the road/ footpath than causing light nuisance to residents and the surrounding wildlife.

The main aim of the scheme is to reduce the usage of energy used by street lights, illuminated signs and bollards across the County.

All new street lights will be pre-programmed to dim between the hours of 10pm-7am when movement is at its lowest so eventually no street lights will be switched off over night.

Little Seedlings childminders

Congratulations to 'Little Seedlings'. Ofsted have graded them at the highest grade in childcare that you can get.

Since opening the business in October 2009 they have grown and gone from strength to strength, working extremely hard to meet the needs of so many different children and their families in the village.

Jane and Sam said "Every day is different and brings us new challenges, its hard work but most of all its fun and there is always lots of laughter. There is nothing better than seeing one of the children in our care achieve something new. We are so pleased with the outcome and the children have loved celebrating our success."

Ofsted Quote:

"The childminder and her assistant are highly skilled, knowledgeable and well qualified. Their teaching and care skills are outstanding. Parents and carers speak highly of the childminder and assistant. Parents highlight their exemplary care, the rich and varied activities offered to children and how much their children enjoy attending."

Parent Quote:

"My husband and I leave our two most precious things in the world, in a place that is happy, safe, caring, fun and creative. On top of all this they are learning new skills every day."

Grandparent Quote:

"Jane and Sam are extremely welcoming and caring, they are excellent and very much love their job and the children that they care for. My grandchildren love going and I know they are being well cared for."

For more details about Little Seedlings, please contact Jane on 07748025281 or at littleseedling@hotmail.co.uk

Award for local volunteers.

Within our village we are fortunate to have several uniformed organisations to occupy our children and young people. This is all possible due to the dedication of the volunteers who run them.

Two such volunteers, Alison Clarkson and Stef Hardy, were recently nominated for an award for their Outstanding Service to Local Guiding.

The awards ceremony took place when Alison was visiting her daughter in Australia but Stef attended and received the awards from the Midlands Chief Commissioner.

Both said they felt very honoured to be nominated for the awards and also feel very privileged to be part of such a great Guiding team here in Ruddington.
