There was some debate about where to hold festivities if the Parish Council wished to. It was decided that Sellors' field was too far out to hold an event here although it could be used for a design for the Ovo Tour of Britain that could be seen from the air.

There was more support to hold festivities on the High Street and involve all of the businesses. Julie Smith a representative of the Village Centre partnership reiterated that they would be happy to get involved to assist in whatever way they could to make the event a success. The Frame Breakers pub has offered to allow use of their car park for viewing the race.

A meeting was proposed with a representative from Rushcliffe Borough Council to discuss the best place for viewing and risk assessments.

Businesses and householders will be leafletted along the route of the tour to ensure that we give the race a resounding welcome to and through the village.

Resolved that. Publicity for the event will be via social media and the Rudd and local businesses and residents along Wilford Road and the High Street will be leafletted to encourage community involvement in the event.
